Guatemala General Information

Officially the Republic of Guatemala is a country in Central America bordered by Mexico to the north and west, the Pacific Ocean to the southwest, Belize to the northeast, the Caribbean to the east, Honduras to the east and El Salvador to the southeast. It spans an area of 108,890 km² (42,043 sqmi) and has an estimated population of 15,806,675, making it the most populous state in Central America. A representative democracy, its capital and largest city is Nueva Guatemala de la Asunción, also known as Guatemala City.

What is today Guatemala was for centuries part of the Mayan civilization that extended across Mesoamerica. Most of the country was conquered by the Spanish in the 16th century, becoming part of the colony of New Spain (present-day Mexico). Guatemala attained its independence in 1821 as part of the Federal Republic of Central America, which dissolved in 1841.

From the mid to late 19th century, Guatemala endured the chronic instability and civil strife that was endemic to the region. Early in the 20th century, it was ruled by a series of dictators, who had the support of the United Fruit Company and the United States government. In 1944, one such authoritarian leader, Jorge Ubico, was overthrown by a pro-democratic military coup, initiating the ten-year Guatemalan Revolution that led to sweeping social and economic reforms. The revolution was ended by a U.S.-engineered military coup in 1954.

From 1960 to 1996, Guatemala underwent a bloody civil war fought between the U.S.-backed government and leftist rebels, which included a genocide of the Mayan population. Since the war ended, Guatemala has witnessed both economic growth and successful democratic elections, though it continues to struggle with high rates of poverty, crime, and instability. In the most recent election, held in 2011, Otto Pérez Molina of the Patriotic Party won the presidency.

Guatemala's abundance of biologically significant and unique ecosystems, many of which are endemic, contributes to Mesoamerica's designation as a biodiversity hotspot. The country is also known for its rich culture, characterized by a fusion of Spanish and Indigenous influences.

About the Ministry of Casa de Mi Padre

Casa De Mi Padre (My Father's House) children's home, is located in the city of Santa Cruz del Quiché, Guatemala in Central America. The home is approximately 90 miles northwest of the capital city. Although the country is ecologically beautiful, poverty is particularly widespread throughout the countryside and large inner-city areas. Illiteracy, infant mortality, and malnutrition are among the highest in the region, while life expectancy is the lowest. The Quiche people are an indigenous group who have limited education and resources. The population of the city of Santa Cruz is between 35 and 45 thousand people. The opportunity for ministry is vast and the need for orphan care in Santa Cruz del Quiche and the surrounding region is real. Casa De Mi Padre has been established to meet this need.

Our ministry is to provide refuge and shelter for needy children coming from poverty, shattered homes, abandonment, or who are orphaned through death. Child Rescue meets the physical needs of children in order to have the opportunity to meet their spiritual needs. Child Rescue has established Casa De Mi Padre children's home where children receive hope, stability, food, clothing, shelter, family, schooling, solid Biblical instruction, and living examples of God's love.

In 2010, Shane Sanderson first came to Guatemala with a vision of helping to save kids in this very poor third world country. Through God's amazing blessing we opened our doors in early July 2011 and received our first child in late July of that same year. We went from having no children to having 16 within 2 months and we have never looked back. We currently house 23 children and are operating at capacity in our current home. We have begun the process of the construction of a brand new home for our children that began with the purchase of vacant property on the opposite side of town from our location. We are still in the beginning stages of the construction process, which we estimate will take 3-4 years. Upon completion, we will have a house that is actually owned by Child Rescue and will have the possibility to house more children and be designed to function as an actual home for our children.

Why build? “David’s Dream”

The reasons for building a new house for our children are varied. Since we first opened our doors, Casa de Mi Padre has operated in a rented house originally intended for a Guatemalan family. While we have made it work for us since the beginning, there have been increasing signs of the possibility that we could lose the home we have been renting. If that were to happen, we would be without a home for our children. They have already lost their homes once and we do not want that to happen again.

In January of 2016, God provided the money for us to close on three different pieces of property that just happened to be adjacent to each other. These properties are now one single piece of land located on the outskirts of the northwest corner of Santa Cruz del Quiché. This property is the perfect size for the vision God has given to us for the home we are going to be building.

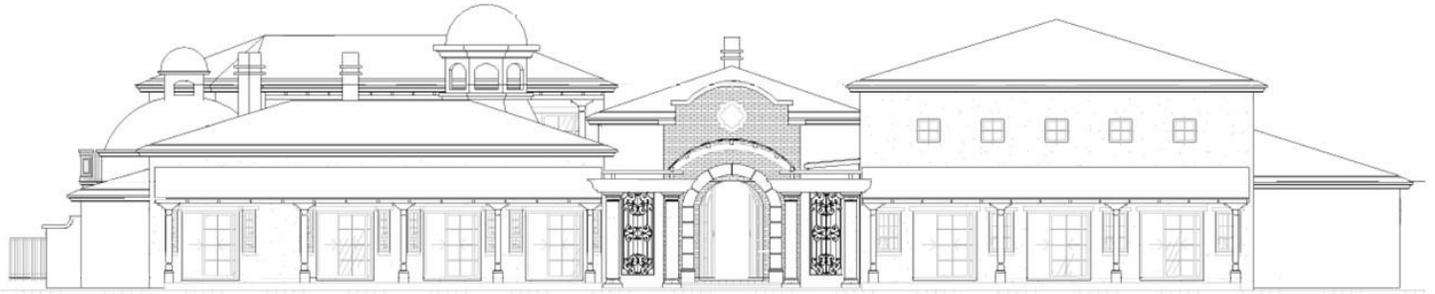

We are calling the entire project “David’s Dream”. Carlos David is one of our youngest children and God has placed a deep desire and drive in our hearts to build a house for him and indeed all of the kids in our home that they will never have to worry about having taken away. When all of our kids came to us, they lost two main things above many other things, and those two things were their families and their homes. We have done everything in our power and through the power of Jesus to provide a family atmosphere for our kids in which they could grow and be nourished, not just physically, but also emotionally and spiritually. We all eat at the same table just like a family, go everywhere in the same vehicle just like a family, and live under the same roof, just like a family.

God has given us a vision of building a house and home that can never again be taken away from our kids. This vision is now becoming a reality as we have acquired that land and have already begun construction. Now that we are well into the initial construction phase, we are ready for teams to come and contribute their time and effort to helping make the new Casa de Mi Padre a reality.

The Mission:

Why are you coming and what you will be doing.

ARTIST RENDERING OF THE FRONT OF THE NEW CASA DE MI PADRE

We are actively recruiting teams from around the country to come and assist us in the building process as we build the new home for our kids. Because this will be a 3-4 year project, what exactly your team will do is largely dependent on when you come and where we are in the process. This could be anywhere from building fence and constructing walls and gates to building the garage and storage facilities to laying block for the main house and running plumbing and electrical, and on and on the possibilities go.

Your team will work alongside our Guatemalan workers for the entire time you work at the site and assist with the construction wherever we are in the process. This will be a work-first mission project for you and your group so most of your time will be spent on the site working on the construction. Your team members will need to be prepared to do light to moderate to sometimes heavy construction work while you are here. Of course we will never discourage people who are less able but still want to help from coming on the mission and we will find tasks for them to do as well. We leave the decision as to who comes on your team to the discretion of each group and we want to honor and respect that, so we will always have tasks that can be performed by pretty much anyone available to your group. You will also have the opportunity to meet and get to know the kids of Casa de Mi Padre a little bit and see firsthand who you are helping by your commitment to come.

You can expect an average day for your trip to look something like this:

- 7:00 wake up
- 8:00 breakfast
- 9:00 arrive on site
- 1:00 lunch
- 2:30 return to site
- 5:30 wrap up day at site
- 6:30 or 7:00 dinner
- 8:00 wind down time
- 10:00 time to get some sleep

Logistical Information

How much does this trip cost?

The cost for your mission project is $875 per person. All group funds must be sent in full two weeks before your trip date. Plus, a $100 nonrefundable registration fee for each participant must be sent two months before your trip date. The cost of each team member's flight is additional. Depending on when you book your tickets you can expect to pay anywhere from $750 to $950 for a roundtrip flight to Guatemala City and back, depending on your point of origin in the United States. So the cost of the flight plus the $975 per person will be the total cost for each member of your team. The quoted price includes all food, transportation, and lodging the entire time you are in Guatemala. This also includes the last day's stay in the city of Antigua and your hotel room there plus two meals there as well. The only thing not included in the cost is any additional purchasing you may wish to do while here in Guatemala. This usually includes things like souvenirs, gifts, and any other items you may wish to buy and take home with you. Each person is encouraged to have spending money in the amount of their choosing.

Group Funds: The group leader might also choose to bring some extra "Group Funds" for additional needs of the group or for ministry or outreach projects.

Additional Charges: Additional charges would include a $350 transportation surcharge if the group is over 17 participants. This charge is for an additional luggage vehicle. Also, any additions or changes to the accommodations are considered additional charges. This would include extra hotel nights or dining during your travel and would be an additional cost to the group. The price schedule is final.

Needed Construction Donation

A valuable way your team will help us with our building project is by helping cover some of the cost of materials while your group will be with us. Part of your cost included in the $975, includes funds to insure all the materials your group will use during your time with us will be available. This will provide a huge boost to the construction process and aid us in staying on schedule as we go through the entire construction process.

How long will our team be in Guatemala?

We have found that the best time frame is for an eight day trip from departure to return. While this may sound like a lot, your team will have 5 actual working days while in country. Two of the days will be spent traveling to and from Guatemala with the final day being spent in the city of Antigua in preparation for your return to the United States. For example, a usual trip would have you departing on a Wednesday from the United States and returning to the US the following Wednesday. This seems to be a very good timeframe which gives ample time to accomplish much needed work on the construction. We can adjust this timeframe based on your teams needs if necessary, but this is a good starting point and seems to be a good amount of time for a short-term mission project.

Number of Participants

The number of participants per group is limited to a total of 20. A team can be split as to where they will be serving. The options for service are to serve at our home with the kids, helping with maintenance at our ministry buildings, off-site evangelism, or construction at the new property. Any combination split is acceptable.

Booking Your Trip

The further in advance you book your mission trip, the more flexible we can be with the dates. You are encouraged to schedule your team as early as possible and start planning the details of your time in Guatemala. You can email us at crshane2010@gmail.com to get more information and/or to schedule your mission trip with Casa de Mi Padre. Once we get your team scheduled, we will send you more detailed information on your trip and how to plan everything in such a way that your time with us will be productive and fruitful. We will assist you with every facet of the planning and execution of your trip to Guatemala including all the do's and don'ts while you are in country, what to bring and what to leave home, what to expect during your time here, etc. We want your trip to Guatemala to be a huge blessing to you and your team and we will do everything in our power to make sure of that.

What's next?

1. Go to the Lord in prayer. Seek the Lord to confirm He wishes for you and your group to travel to Guatemala on a short-term mission to help us build the new Casa de Mi Padre.
2. Contact us to get any questions answered and to schedule your team. Once we have you on the schedule we will work with you every step of the way in helping you and your team to have the best possible experience you can have while on your trip.
3. Begin promoting the trip to your group or church. We will provide you with helpful information and media that will help you promote the mission to Guatemala and help cast the vision of what the mission is all about. Pray that God will touch the hearts of people that He wants to be a part of your team and ask Him to give you wisdom and direction as you begin preparing for the trip itself.
4. Once scheduled, we will work with you or your team leader and provide much more detailed information about every facet of making your trip to Guatemala from best times to travel, planning, and how to promote the trip within your group or church. This will include exhaustive travel tips, advice, and information, what to expect culture-wise during your stay with us, encouragement and helpful information on how to raise money for your individual team members and for your group as a whole if needed, the do's and don'ts of your time here in Guatemala, and many other areas of information that you will find very helpful in making your trip very fruitful and productive.
5. Most importantly, saturate the entire process with prayer. Start with prayer, pray as you go, and end with prayer. Ask God to go with you and your team every step of the way. When God's hand of blessing is on the mission, amazing things always happen. Also ask God that He not just use you and your team, but that He also uses the trip to work in and change the hearts of the individual members of your group. God can do unbelievable things when we join Him in what He is doing and follow His leadership. Ask God to work in your heart as well and pray for wisdom as you take each step in this process.

The long term impact of your team coming down will have an effect on future generations of Guatemalan children and young people for many years to come and so your commitment and investment of time and resources cannot be understated. First of all we encourage you catch the vision of seeing a new and permanent home for the orphans of Quiché and then to help others in your church or organization catch that same vision. You and your team will then have the chance to experience God using you to have an impact on the lives of other people for all of eternity. We are praying with you that God guides you and your group as you seek Him about coming to Guatemala. Our hearts are in prayer with you as well.
